S. Hollister Jackson went to Windsor this morning to attend a hearing of the state railroad commissioners in regard to a highway bridge there.

A writer for the Rutland Herald who can't look over the "mountain line" says that Troy Conference academy of Poultney, whose basketball team has just defeated Burlington high and Burlington Y. M. C. A., has now only to beat Vermont academy to "obtain the championship." This writer may have overlooked the slight fact that there are two other teams, Goddard seminary of this city and People's academy of Morrisville, which have not been beaten this year in a large number of games—Goddard having played an even dozen without a break in the string of victories. Then, there's Goddard's defeat of Vermont academy for the Rutland writer to get around. It looks like as if his team will have to travel a bit to "obtain" the championship of the state. Still, it might be interesting for Goddard and People's academy to take on this T. C. A. team, to see what they're got.

Many stone sheds in the city were obliged to close down this forenoon on account of an ice jam in the dam of the Viles system at Middlesex, which caused the power to be shut off.

Local 481, C. & J. of A., will hold its annual celebration February 19, in Woodmen's hall. Old-fashioned dancing will be indulged in. All members and their invited friends will participate. Chairman of committee.

A score or more of the friends of Frank F. Bradbury gave him a birthday surprise at his home, 3 Averill avenue, off Eastern avenue, last evening. The visit was a thorough surprise to Mr. Bradbury, but he heartily welcomed the company and a most enjoyable evening was passed. Games furnished the principal amusement of the evening and refreshments were served.

A chance of a lifetime! On account of Gilbertson's orchestra being obliged to cancel its engagement at February 20 and having extra men hired for this date and also for the 21st, it gives the dancers a chance to go to a dance Thursday evening, February 20, in the Woodmen's hall, Bolster block. This is the same orchestra that played for the hospital benefit. Now, if you danced after this music once, you will want to again; and if you never have, you surely will want to, for it is second to none. Now, remember, this is probably the only chance you will have this winter to hear this orchestra to as good advantage. Turn out and give the only musical organization you have in town a royal send-off.

WILLIAMSTOWN

The Norwich university musical club will give a concert at the town hall Thursday evening, February 20. Dr. Harry M. Gokley is director and leader of the glee club; Edward N. Clark, director and leader of the orchestra; R. L. Andrews, reader, and F. C. Parks, pianist. The program is as follows:

Winter Song Bullard
Glee club, Mr. Leete, soloist

Reading Selected
Mr. Andrews

Anchored Watson
